Pace University
Lubin School of Business
Doctoral Program

Introduction
Thank you for your interest in the Pace University Doctoral Program in Business for Executives. We eagerly anticipate receiving and reviewing your application and we look forward to meeting you during an interview to discuss your possible admission. Please contact us if you have questions or want assistance with the application.

The Doctoral Program in Business enables successful business managers and professionals to either extend their business careers or pursue academic careers by infusing them with theoretical knowledge to conceptually understand business issues and by developing their research skills to analyze business problems and create new knowledge.

Consistent with our mission we attempt to identify and to admit applicants who have distinguished records of success and accomplishment in their academic pursuits and professional careers.

Therefore, our application requests detailed personal and confidential information. Completing the application requires significant time and effort. It provides us with many indicators of your potential for doctoral studies. Please understand and appreciate that the Admission Committee will use all the information you provide to carefully assess your application.

For the application deadline and other important dates, please consult the final section of these instructions.

- Part B of the application
- Resume

- Links to GMAT and TOEFL sites.

In the remainder of these instructions we provide more details to help you with the application forms and process.

Part A
Complete Part A of the application online. It asks for your name, contact, and employment information. It should require no research or preparation. When we receive Part A, we will send you an email with Part B attached.

Part B and Resume
Submit Part B and your resume as attachments to an email sent to DPS.business@pace.edu.

Part B requests detailed information about your academic history, professional experience, and career success. It also requests several thoughtful essays.

Complete Part B of the application, using a personal computer with Microsoft Word 2010 or later version. It will function properly only if you:

- Always open it with macros enabled. This may require changes to your MS Windows Trust Center settings.
- Always save it as an MS Word 2007 template (filename.DOTM).
- Follow the specific instructions near the beginning of the template.
- Enter data only in designated locations. It is a locked form template that limits entry locations.

Fee and Affirmation
From our website, read and print the affirmation form. Sign the form and send it with a check or money order payable to Pace University for $75.00 in an envelope addressed to the doctoral program. Send it via a reliable parcel delivery service, like USPS. This application fee is not refundable.

Recommendations
Download and print four copies of the recommendation form from the doctoral program website. Do not use recommendation forms designed for other Pace programs.

Complete and sign the applicant section of each form and give one to each recommender together with an envelope addressed to the doctoral program.

Each recommender should complete the form and send it directly to the doctoral program either as a printed document sent through a reliable parcel delivery service or as a PDF file attached to an email. Recommenders should not return the completed form to you.

The four people you select to submit recommendations in support of your application should have known and/or observed you for significant periods of time. They should be able to evaluate you objectively. List their names and contact information in Part B of the application.

At least two recommenders should know you in a professional context. They should not be current subordinates. Preferably one should be your current supervisor and the other should be a senior executive in your employer organization. If your current supervisor is new, one of the remaining recommenders should be a person who supervised your work for a significant period.

Use your judgment in selecting the remaining recommenders. If possible, one recommender should be a faculty member of a college you have attended with whom you have maintained a relationship during the past five years.

U.S. Transcripts

Ask every college and university you attended to send us an official academic transcript of your work. Do not send us transcripts in sealed envelopes you have received from these institutions.

Official transcripts must specify dates attended, courses attempted, grades earned, and degrees awarded. They must have the institution seal and the certification signature of an authorized official.

From many institutions you can request transcripts online. For others, you may use the transcript request form available on our website. Print the form, complete the top portion; and send it to the institution, together with any required fee. Many institutions no longer charge for official transcripts.

International Transcripts

All transcripts from educational institutions outside the United States must be certified by an approved translation and evaluation agency. For more information, consult the “international transcript” document on our website.

We accept international transcripts only if they are sent directly to us from one of the approved evaluation agencies. Please contact the agencies for fee schedules and other requirements. The website document provides more details and a list of approved agencies.

English Language

Doctoral students must have effective oral and written communication skills in the English language. Seminars require active participation both verbally in classrooms and written online. In addition, papers assigned in courses and doctoral dissertations require excellent writing skills.

If you did not earn an academic degree from an institution where lectures and assignments were delivered in English, you must submit your score on the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL). A link to the TOEFL website is available on our website.

We prefer TOEFL scores that exceed 100 on the current test, 250 on the computer-based test and 600 on the paper-based test. For more information about TOEFL, visit the web site http://www.toefl.org.

Educational Testing Service must send official TOEFL reports directly to us. When requesting your scores, enter the school code 2635, enter name of department as "Doctoral Program in Business" and enter the department code 99.

GMAT Scores

The Graduate Management Admission Test (GMAT) is designed to "provide counselors and admission officers with one predictor of academic performance in the first year of graduate management school."

GMAT scores are an optional part of your application. Consider submitting GMAT scores if you did not perform well in prior academic programs or if you conclude that scores would improve our overall assessment of your application. We do not discriminate against applicants that do not submit GMAT scores.

A link to the GMAC website is available on our website. To send your scores to the Doctoral Program, enter the school code 2721. We only accept scores achieved within the most recent five years and sent to us directly by GMAC.

Some applicants choose to take GMAT more than once to improve their scores. In evaluating applications, we consider only the highest scores you achieve. Although we do not have an absolute minimum score for acceptance, we encourage you to perform well and to be satisfied with your results.

Complete the GMAT before the application deadline. GMAC recommends that you register for the GMAT at least one month before your desired examination date. The GMAT is administered as a computer-adaptive test on most days of the year at many locations.

GMAC offers several preparation aids for GMAT, including a review guide and computer software. Several independent organizations also offer preparation courses designed to enhance performance on the exam.

Supplemental Materials

As part of your application, you may include copies of any documents you believe will help the Admission Committee make a better decision. These documents should be submitted either with Part B of the application or with the affirmation form. These documents will not be returned.

Interview

We will contact you to schedule an admission interview soon after we receive all of the other application documents. This is a one-hour interview with us to discuss your application.

We interview all applicants. In addition to enhancing the information available to the Admission Committee, the interview provides an opportunity to explore how the program can support your professional needs, educational objectives, and personal schedule.

Although we conduct most interviews in our offices, we can arrange telephone interviews to accommodate special needs. We usually notify applicants of admission decisions by email or written correspondence soon after the interview.

Financial Aid
